It is a common belief that cancer is a fatal disease. This is a misconception. Awareness of cancer prevention and control methods can help in a large way in reducing the incidence and mortality associated with this disease. Often it is the mental trauma and negative psychological impact of cancer diagnosis that patients find difficult to cope with. The accompanying financial burden only adds to the situation and in certain instances can lead to bankruptcy. Thus patient care should focus on cancer awareness as well as financial and psychological rehabilitation.

Presently there are several thousand families in our society struggling with cancer diagnosis of one or more of its members. Should we neglect this suffering? While one section lives a life of comfort, luxury and good health, we cannot turn a blind eye to families suffering from the after effects of members affected by potentially deadly diseases.

If cancer patients are provided with timely diagnosis and treatment, this situation can undergo a radical transformation. Government sponsored programs have given access to free cancer treatment to multitudes of patients. Many patients struggle with issues such as accommodation, food, expenses for patient's bystanders and ambulance services. It is with these facts in mind that the employees of RCC together with like minded people from the public and some Cancer survivors have come together to form "KANIVU Cancer Care Charitable Society" with the purpose of providing mental, social and financial support to cancer patients.

It is imperative that we, as a society, show some empathy and kind heartedness to our cohabitants. This forms an essential framework for the survival and existence of our mankind. We humbly request you to be a part of this noble venture that aims to illuminate the darkness that envelopes stigma and difficulties associated with cancer diagnosis and treatment.

With best wishes and regards
